RXCut.com is a website that helps you find the least expensive price locally for each of your prescriptions. You can print your FREE discount card right off the website.

Each pharmacy prices its prescriptions based on the demographics of the people they want in the store. The same generic drug at one drugstore might cost $20 and at the store across the street it might be $200. RXCut.com lets you see the pricing for each of your prescriptions at every pharmacy within a 10 mile radius of where you live.

When you select a pharmacy to shop at, be sure to take your RXCut card in to be sure you get the right pricing. If you have an insurance card to help with the pricing, be sure to ask the pharmacy attendant if your prescription would be cheaper if you bought it without your insurance card. This actually happens. Sometimes you get charged more with your insurance card than if you bought it retail.
